

Public Statement 16/09/08

As you may be aware the Refocussing Trust and I have been involved in a dispute with Pauline Skeates and Insight Services Ltd over certain activities in relation to Refocussing/refocussing theory and practice which include Pauline's use of Dr Divett's intellectual property, the origination of the theory and modality known as Refocussing/refocussing theory and practice and who has the right to teach or train others in this particular theory and practice.

The parties have now resolved their differences. It is acknowledged that Dr Divett is the creator of the original unique counselling theory and modality known as Refocussing/refocussing theory and practice and the rightful owner of the intellectual property associated with Refocussing theory and its practice.

While Ms Skeates was involved with training and supervision in refocussing counselling between 1995 and 2000 she no longer has any association with Dr Divett or the Refocussing Trust.

Ms Skeates has agreed to stop teaching or training Refocussing theory and practice immediately.

With respect to the Refocussing materials (as defined in paragraph 7(a))

The parties specifically agree that:

- * Dr Divett owns all copyright in the said materials;
- * The materials were reproduced in a substantial part by Ms Skeates;
- * This was done in a genuine, albeit mistaken belief, that she was entitled to do so; and
- * Any misunderstandings that may have arisen as a result are regretted.

Both parties acknowledge that unfortunate and regrettable statements have been made in the context of this proceeding and further regret any disruption or inconvenience caused to the Christian community or any other parties.

[Paragraph 7(a) above refers to paragraph 16 of the Amended Statement of Claim, and the contents of this paragraph are available upon request]